The Weber 32/36 DGV and DGAV carburettors were fitted to a whole host of classic Fords, and many have since been retrospectively fitted as a useful performance upgrade. The carbs are easy to set-up and maintain, however like most things in life they do benefit from some tlc from time to time - either a service or a full rebuild.

First announced in 1958, in its 20 years of production, the Midget underwent many changes and was produced in four distinct Marks. The final version had black plastic bumpers to meet US regulations and a new 1493cc engine. The last Midget was built in November 1979, by which time there was no doubt that the car was outdated, but still fun.
