Published in 1934, For Two Thousand Years is a Jewish University student trying to come to terms with antisemitism that is growing in Romania. He is walking a tightrope between the Zionists and the Communists in the Jewish community. He has friends on both sides. He also has friends that want to do something about the "Jewish problem".

For Two Thousand Years by Mihail Sebastian

When he returns home in 1923 at the height of beatings at the university, he hears a man named Moritz Bercovici utter the despairing words, "'For two thousand years ' . . .trying to explain to me the cause of our persecution." The utterance of those "two thousand years" recurs repeatedly in the novel, most piercingly towards the end:
