Nuances of Home Life is a collection of poetry written by Melbourne teenager Michelle Phan, who has become a whimsical storyteller through the art of spoken word. Her pieces attach sentiment to seemingly mundane experiences and detail the ordinary in order to explore the development of imagination over time. Her poetry draws upon the happiness of simplicity, such as the act of going on a walk, sitting in a car at sunset, playing games with family, or even, going to school. There is a sense of playfulness that stands above an underlying current of insecurity as some pieces discuss body image, feminism and social dynamics within the classroom. Whatever the memory of teenagerism, Michelle has provided a relatable narrative voice that aims to cherish personal triumphs over conflict. Home life is referred to as the events that take place away from the public eye. Therefore a lot of growth happens behind closed doors and Nuances of Home Life is a poetry book that brings personal experiences to light. Written by a teenage girl, this collection of poetry aims to appreciate individuality and beauty in simple memories. It additionally comments on experiences that were once thought of as undesirable and, by addressing insecurities with authority, this book is one that punctuates the author's teenage years with a celebration of confidence.

If there's one piece of invaluable advice for women and girls of all ages, it is that there is nothing more important than creating and maintaining strong, positive and happy friendships with other women. In a culture that largely pits women against each other, I want to celebrate female friendships... all strings attached! If my 1998 diary is anything to go by, female friendships are incredibly complex and emotional but they're the mini love stories that make us who we are. For many women, friends are our partners in crime through life; they are the ones who move us into new homes, out of bad relationships, through births and illnesses. In The F Word I've set out to explore and celebrate the essence of female friendship at different life stages and in its many wild and wonderful forms.
